I will mention the friends that I have here that you may form an idea of our situation. Mrs Williams and I live together. We have one purse, and joined in misery we are for the present joined in life. The poor girl withers like a lily. She lives for her children but it is a living death. Lord Byron has been very kind. But the friend to whom we are eternally indebted is Trelawny. I have, of course mentioned him to you as one who wishes to be considered eccentric, but who was noble and generous at bottom. I always thought so, even when no fact proved it: and Shelley agreed with me as he always did, or rather, I with him. We heard people speak against him on account of his vagaries; we said to one another, Still we like him; we believe him to be good. Once even when a whim of his led him to treat me with something like impertinence, I forgave him, and I have now been well rewarded. In my outline of events, you will see how unasked he returned with Jane and me from Leghorn to Lerici; how he stayed with us miserable creatures twelve days there, endeavoring to keep up our spirits; how he left us on Thursday, and finding our misfortune confirmed, then without rest returned on Friday to us, and again without rest returned with us to Pisa on Saturday. These were...
