The man whose life and work we commemorate today was an almost exact contemporary of another famous chemist whose great genius and high character have been recently depicted for us by his friend and fellow-worker. Rammelsberg was born two years later than Bunsen and outlived him by less than one year. Among the workers who during this period contributed to raise the edifice of modern chemistry upon the foundations laid during the childhood of these two men, some, like Bunsen, were thinkers of the highest genius whose inspiring ideas directed the development of the structure, others, like Rammelsberg, were the skilful and indefatigable craftsmen who amassed and set in order the material. Owing to the fact that Rammelsberg's name is not associated with...
