Excerpt: . . . to excuse their failures, but to shew them how much more they ought to be continually upon their guard, lest they incur the terrible sentence to be denoucd, as himself here professes, by our Saviour at the last day, and suffer the effects of it in a measure proportions to that of their respective talents I never knew you, depart from me, ye that work iniquity: Ye that have enjoyd soch distinguishd favours, and superior means of grace, be eternally separated from my presence, and the joys of heaven, for your abuse of them: Terrible sentence os perdition, and the more so, from him who came to seek and to save that which was lost. Of Stedfastness and Perseverance in Religion, and the Authority of the Legislator. Ss. 24. Therefore, whosoever he ar et h these sayings ofmine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wife man which built his house upon a rock: If. 25. And the rain descended, and the flouds came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house: and it fell not, for it was founded upon a rock. 16. And every one that he ar et h these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man which built his house upon the sand: Ss. 27. And the rain descended, andthe flouds came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house: and it fell, and great was the fall of it...
